Communications Plan

Council's comments with respect to the proposed names for the subway stations will be communicated to the TTC, the Region of York and the York Region Rapid Transit Corporation.

Purpose

The purpose of the report is to respond to the TTC's request for input from the City of Vaughan and York Region with respect to the subway stations at the 407 and in the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre.

Background - Analysis and Options

TTC staff is proposing to bring forward a report to the September Commission meeting recommending names for the new subway stations. Currently, TTC staff is favouring the "Vaughan Centre" name for the station located in the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre; and "Highway 407" as the name for the station located immediately to the south of Highway 407, west of Jane St. By e-mail dated July 12, 2010, TTC staff is seeking input on the draft station names. Given the timing of the Council meetings over the summer, an immediate response is warranted.

The proposed "Highway 407" station name is in common usage amongst city staff and it is readily identifiable. As such, there is no objection to the use of this name. However, the "Vaughan Centre" name is a concern. On June 30, 2010 Council adopted the name "Vaughan Metropolitan Centre" to replace the earlier "Vaughan Corporate Centre" name. As a result, by letter dated September 30, 2009 (see Attachment No. 2), the TTC was advised of the name change and it was requested that the future Vaughan Corporate Centre station be named the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre station.

The TTC's rationale for using the Vaughan Centre name is that it is consistent with other stations on the system like North York Centre and Scarborough Centre and that it provides useful geographic information for customers. Further, in reaching this conclusion, there appears to be a perception on behalf of the TTC staff that the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre is tied to a specific development. This is not the case. The Vaughan Metropolitan Centre is the City's branding of the Urban Growth Centre and vicinity, as established in the "Places to Grow" plan which is identified as a Regional Centre in the Region of York Official Plan. The City's new Official Plan will identify this broad area as the "Vaughan Metropolitan Centre Secondary Plan". In addition it has already been the subject of a marketing campaign to raise its profile amongst the business and residential communities. Use of the Vaughan Centre name has the potential to introduce a level of confusion with the public.

The measures being undertaken by the City will continue to build the profile of the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre as the City's primary urban focus. Recognition will be a key. Having the station reflect the name of the Council adopted name for centre will play an important role in furthering this objective. Therefore, it is recommended that the TTC be advised that the City continues to support the naming of the terminus station on the Spadina extension the "Vaughan Metropolitan Centre" station. In addition, the Region of York and the York Region Rapid Transit Corporation will also be advised of the City's position.

Relationship to Vaughan Vision 2020/Strategic Plan

The naming of the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre is part of the City's broader corporate objective of promoting the centre through a branding and marketing strategy.

Regional Implications

The Region of York was supportive of the City's initiative to rename the centre the Vaughan Metropolitan Centre. This name is recognized in the Region's Official Plan.

Conclusion

To achieve the desired profile and name recognition, it is critical to maintain consistency between the naming of the station, the broader planning area and the City's branding and marketing efforts.
